REACH Air Medivac Services landed Sunday evening June 5 and I went out to meet them. Turns out the pilot Dan is an airplane enthusiast so I introduced him to CFO/Treasurer Jon Kibrick.

The Saturday EAA BBQ is up and running weekly. The prices did go up a tad as supply costs are skyrocketing. It's still a great value with everything included, and the camaraderie is outstanding! As always, we can use volunteers to help grill, serve, and take orders so please use this link to sign up:

Flying in overnight?

Mark Shackford came up with a great idea about our “Tie Down” envelopes. They will be outside by the bulletin board in a hanging container. Every once in a while we miss folks when they fly in and don't get a chance to talk to them. We have found, however, that on the whole pilots know there is an overnight fee and want to pay it.

Need a plumber?

Our EAA Clubhouse needed a bit of plumbing TLC and Mark's Plumbing did a great job!

The unpopular stuff ... (this is the part where no one likes the Manager)

Parking Between hangars must not block any aircraft. There have been more and more cars parking in front of their hangars and pilots are having difficulty clearing their aircraft to/from their hangars. Cars may be parked in the parking lot, or in such a manner as to not block any access. Along the same lines, parking vehicles on the side of the fuel tank is not a great idea either, even though it is convenient.

Dogs and young children must be under direct control at all times while on airport property. Sonoma Skypark already voted in a “leash law” in years back, but we haven’t enforced it...and we’d rather not. There have been instances of dogs being loose on the tarmac near the runway and pilots stating they had to alter their landing to avoid hitting the animal. Young children are not to be left unattended anywhere at any time. Children are not allowed between the hangars due to safety issues and airport equipment. Some weeks ago we had our East water supply cut off due to a water pipe/irrigation control broken... children stepped on it while playing hide-n-seek on a Sunday afternoon and it ran our water tanks dry and cost a few hundred dollars to fix. Parents, please remember this “Fun Place to Fly” can be hazardous.

BBQ at your hangar? The grill MUST be outside the hangar for safety reasons. You may call me a “spoilsport” but this is clearly written in our Lease Agreement and Sub-Lessee Rules and Regulations. I don’t think any of us want to see our property go up in flames over an errant spark.

HAVE A HAPPY AND SAFE 4TH OF JULY HOLIDAY.
